Many families had more than one family member in the service or a service related job. This section recognizes the sacrifices made by these families.

HAS TWO SONS NOW IN FRANCE IN OUR ARMY

Mrs. Virginie Jourdan Herbst, of 141 Garfield Ave., was advised by cable last Sunday that her two sons arrived safely "overseas."

Edwin Jourdan Herbst, her older son, who is organist and choirmaster of Grace Episcopal Church here, Scoutmaster of Troop 5, gave his free Sundays while training at Camp Dix to St. George's Chapel and played the services for the soldiers. Rev. Karl Morgan Block, the Rector, spoke with affectionate reverence of Mr. Herbst, and told how he improved the services with his music, and how the Herbst brothers felt that St. George's Lodge was a home to them. Edwin Jourdan is "First Aid" in a Medical Corps attached to the Infantry.

George Jourdan Herbst, the younger son, who is a Mural painter and architect, was one of twelve men chosen from 4,000 for the Intelligence Service. He is a Scout in this difficult and daring branch of the service, where his knowledge of languages, higher mathematics and as an expert high mountain climber, will be of great value in his work.

Mrs. Jourdan Herbst will continue to keep the Studio Farm, and engage in war relief work.
